

Are you getting tired of comparing your sensitive document versions word by word?

SecureMark 2010

for Microsoft Word is the first content-based watermark that secures your documents in a snap!

Business Challenge

- Too many versions of the same document are exchanged
- The legal importance of documents has risen tremendously
- How do you ensure that the legal documents you sign are the same as their digital versions you store in your information system?

The Solution

- SecureMark 2010 generates a guilloche-based, content-dependent watermark
- A very slight change in your document significantly alters this watermark
- Guilloches are very tough to counterfeit, thus offering a high level of security

Secure, content-dependent, guilloche-based watermarks

Secure, content-dependent,
guilloche-based watermark
